Tempus Again Named Top Overall Currency Forecaster in Bloomberg's Q4 2021 Rankings

WASHINGTON, DC – January 5, 2022 – Tempus is proud to be named the top overall forecaster for the G10 currencies in Bloomberg's FX Forecast Accuracy Rankings for Q4 2021. Notably, this is the sixth time Tempus has earned the distinction of top overall forecaster for the G10 Currencies.

Additionally, Tempus earned 1st place for the New Zealand dollar (NZD), 2nd place for the Swiss Franc (CHF), 4th place for both the Mexican Peso (MXN) and Australian Dollar (AUD), and 5th place for the British Pound (GBP). Tempus achieved these distinctions above nearly 47 other distinguished global financial institutions, including some of the world's largest banks.

"We are honored once again to earn #1 amongst more than 47 participating banks worldwide," says JP Carriedo, CEO for Tempus. "This distinguished accolade for Tempus reaffirms the FX expertise clients can continue to expect as we unify our global presence under our parent company's name, Monex, later this month."

"It feels good to get back to the echelon of forecasting after navigating a pandemic that changed almost everything we have used in the past to analyze markets and digest unprecedented events," explains Juan Perez, Senior FX Trader & Strategist for Tempus. "Our clients are the greatest resource of information as they cope with new challenges to their trade while hedging themselves for a promising yet complex future."

Tempus has provided simplified, market-leading foreign exchange (FX) payments and risk management solutions for thousands of clients and corporate partners for more than two decades. These Bloomberg rankings acknowledge our ongoing efforts to deliver top FX expertise from our award-winning trading and account teams and leading digital tools like our online payments platform, Tempus Online, and tailored API solutions.

Tempus consistently earns top 10 recognition in Bloomberg's quarterly rankings for overall G10 currencies and individual currencies.
